

HIGHGRADE PROTECTION

Protect your carpets...
...from spills and possible stains

If you haven't had your carpets & upholstery stainproofed, you should. Sooner or later something will spill onto your carpet and stain it. Removing that stain may prove impossible, unless you've had us treat it for you first. Highgrade Protection seals each fibre and helps to avoid stains being absorbed into the pile, while also protecting against dust mites, fleas, beetle and moth larvae.

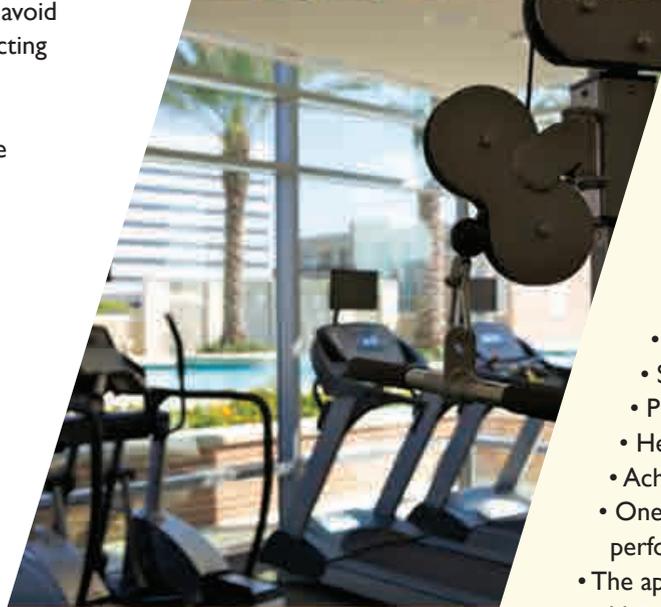

One simple application will significantly improve the life and performance of your carpets & upholstery.

Once treated, they are easier to clean - Highgrade Protection makes sound financial sense. Contact us and discover how we can reduce the possibility of permanent stains affecting your valuable carpets or upholstery.

OUR EXPERIENCE

Highgrade have gained their expert cleaning knowledge from a technical background in the carpet industry, coupled with over 45 years cleaning experience.

The excellent standard of Highgrade Carpet and Upholstery Care has been praised by major High Street retailers, including John Lewis, Harrods, Liberty, Selfridges and many others. Highgrade is the first choice of leading interior designers and over 45,000 satisfied customers.

ULTIMATE PROTECTION

Bacteria free environments...
...applying protection to the highest level

Highgrade applications can be used where there is carpet or upholstery including schools, hotels, gyms, hospitals, carehomes or cruiseships.

BENEFITS OF ULTIMATE PROTECTION

Highgrade are now able to combine BioCote® antimicrobial technology in conjunction with stain protection to new or existing carpets and soft furnishings, providing a cost-effective and proactive solution to your antimicrobial hygiene programme.

Added benefits of Highgrade Ultimate Protection include:

- Does everything Highgrade Protection does and more.
- Seals each fibre and helps to avoid stains being absorbed.
- Prevents odours, stains and deterioration.
- Helps to avoid microbial growth, fungal moulds and allergies.
- Achieves a minimum of 95% reduction in bacteria.
- One simple application can significantly improve the life and performance of your carpets & upholstery.
- The application supports cleaning regimes and provides an additional level of protection against microbes and fungal spores.

BioCote® is the only antimicrobial company to carry out a number of environmental studies which prove BioCote® is as effective in situ as in laboratory testing. Trials in a hospital, carehome and food production plant showed BioCote® protected products harboured 95% fewer microbes than standard products in real life environments.

ABOUT HIGHGRADE

We are often asked to describe our cleaning process and explain why we believe it to be the best possible cleaning method available.

For the past 45 years we at Highgrade have used a foam shampoo extraction system for cleaning carpets and upholstery. Our machines convert a mixture of hot water and special powder based detergent into foam, which is brushed into the fibres and simultaneously extracted without applying excess moisture so that drying time is kept to a minimum. Also, this powder based chemical requires no rinsing.

The majority of carpet and upholstery cleaners in this country use hot-water extraction machines. This is commonly referred to as “steam cleaning” although the machines do not produce steam. This system typically works by spraying water into the fibres and extracting by way of suction. The problems associated with this operation are that the carpet may become extremely wet, in most cases there is no brush action and, more importantly, they often add a chemical that leaves a sticky residue. As this chemical residue will inevitably attract dirt, the carpet needs cleaning more often.

We are confident that you will find our cleaning method to be safer, dryer, more effective and your carpets and upholstery will benefit from visibly better and longer lasting results.

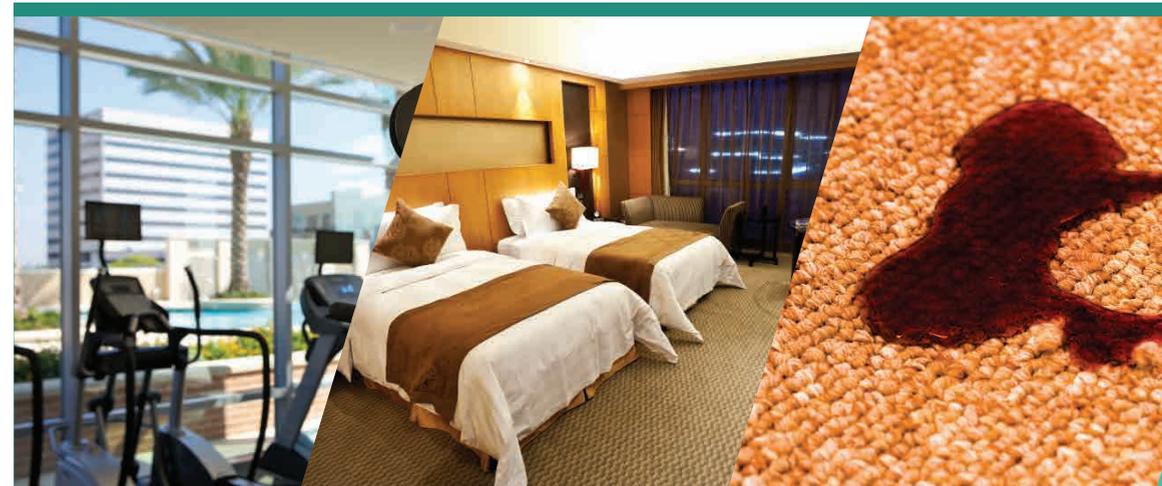

We also provide a stainproofing service for all types of new and cleaned carpets and upholstery. This helps to provide some protection for those inevitable accidents. Spillages are more effectively removed and subsequent cleaning can be more efficient.
